

Rheumatologists – do you know or work with health professionals who want to stay current with evidence-based knowledge in the field of rheumatology and arthritis care? If so, please pass along this message!

The Arthritis Health Professions Association (AHPA) is a Canadian organization with a mission to build and sustain a community of professionals who provides the best possible care to Canadians with arthritis through knowledge translation, engagement, and inter-professional collaboration.

Membership benefits include a monthly newsletter, continuing education events, webinars, conferences, and other opportunities to share knowledge and expertise at an inter-professional level in the field of rheumatology. Members may apply for research grants and awards, attend the annual CRA/AHPA Annual Scientific Meeting, attend the annual ORA Annual Meeting and network with experts in the field of rheumatology. Travel bursaries are available to help offset costs.

Come join us in this exciting field of arthritis care! Visit www.ahpa.ca to find out more!

Sue MacQueen PT, ACPAC
President, AHPA